Reading Ambassador Challenge

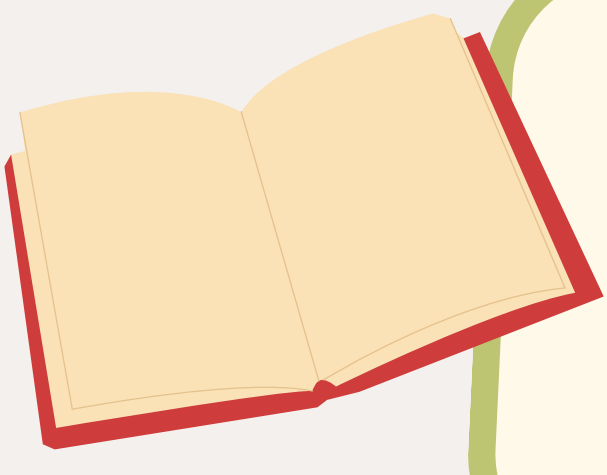
Imagine a child says:

"I don't like reading. Reading is boring!"

What could you say or do to encourage them to give reading a try? You could choose one of these ideas:

Recommend a book

Choose a book you think they might enjoy and explain why you think they would like it.



Make a poster or display

Create a poster or display that would encourage the child to give reading a try.

Create a reading game or activity

Design a fun game or activity that could make reading more exciting.

Come up with your own idea

You don't have to choose one of the ideas above. If you have another creative way to encourage someone to read, we would love to see it!

Remember...

We are not looking for the child who gives the "right" answer.

Your idea doesn't have to be perfect. We want to see your personality, your ideas and your love of reading!

Most importantly, have fun with it!
